“ For Alex

*Sixty years, a life well-lived,
A heart so full, a soul that gave.
A husband, father, grandpa too,
A friend so real, so kind, so true.*

*For twenty-five years, he stood by her side,
Gloria, his love, his joy, his pride.
Together for thirty-one sweet, strong years,
Through laughter, memories, and sometimes tears.*

*He raised a son, three daughters bright,
With guidance gentle, with hands held tight.
His grandkids knew his warmth, his grin,
A light that shone from deep within.*

*Five sisters, two brothers, family so wide,
And nieces, nephews beaming with pride.
The coolest uncle, the funnest friend,
A life of laughter he'd always send.*

*He danced like nobody else could see,
With joy, with rhythm, wild and free.
The congas spoke his soul's delight,
Drumming joy into every night.*

*Rock music pulsed within his veins,
Santana's soul in every refrain.
With every beat, with every song,
Alex's spirit played along.*

*He loved his Raiders, win or lose,
In silver and black, he'd proudly choose.
We'd see him pace, we'd hear him cheer,
That football fire was loud and clear.*

*He lost his son, sweet Jaybird's light,
A wound that stayed but didn't dim his might.
Through deepest pain, he showed us grace,
With love and strength we still embrace.*

*He joked, he smiled, he made us laugh,
So humble, welcoming on every path.
He lived with heart, with open arms—
A man of music, soul, and charm.*

*We miss you dearly, more than words can say,
But you're in our hearts every single day.
So dance up there, where angels play—
We'll hear your congas when we pray.*

*Forever loved. Forever missed.
Rest easy, Alex. In eternal bliss.*

“ May Uncle Alex rest in peace. I'll miss his cheesy smile, jokes, and stories that always left us laughing . I miss the way he said, "heyyyyyyyyy mijaaaaaaa", in his unique voice followed by a big hug are forever etched in my memory. I'll miss him telling me , hey mija the raiders are going to do it this year right “, and then us both rolling our eyes at each other when we lost horribly .

Uncle Alex had a gift for making everyone feel loved and welcome, didn't matter who you were he made you feel like you mattered.

Our family adored him, and he loved us just the same - not just because he married into our family, but because we made him feel like family.

He loved my aunt, his daughters, grandchildren, and especially his son J-Bird. I can only hope they're reunited now, sharing the biggest hug. Knowing they will have infinite time together is something that soothes our hearts.

Uncle Alex's love for his family was undeniable, and I'm grateful for the time we had with him. Rest easy, Uncle Alex, and keep watch over my aunt. 🙏

Wishing you Peace to bring you Comfort, Courage to help you face the days ahead, and loving memories to forever hold in your heart ❤️

Your sister Carmen

I had a dream of our brother Alex he was at Peace. I found this poem, and it was as if he was speaking to us all:

"A Limb Has Fallen"

A Limb has fallen from the Family Tree. I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me."

Remember the best times, the laughter, the songs.

The good life I lived while I was strong. Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you. Keep smiling and surely the Sun will shine through. My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest. Remembering all, how I was truly blessed.

Continue traditions, no matter how small. Go with on life, don't worry about falls. I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin, until the day comes, when we're all together again..

Love and miss you, Alex.. 🙏🏻
