“ Carlos,

I am here because of you. You taught me so much about strength and determination. To look at life right in the face and kick it's ass. You were part of my heart! We joked about how I was your little brother. When I struggled mentally you always were there and helped me through those dark times. My hero, my light, and most of all my friend. A heart that was incredible. My big NAPS brother, my leader and XO. I am who I am and here because you took the time to listen and lead. You changed so many lives. You are forever in my heart! I honor your life for many reasons, but I am able to write this note today because you saved mine. To our final salute until we meet again. With much love and the biggest hug ever! Little bro Meadows

“ Carlos was my student at the Naval Academy Preparatory School in Newport, RI. I remember him as an intelligent, hardworking, determined young man. But most important, he was so very kind. It is people like him that make my job a joy. It saddens me deeply to hear of his passing. My thoughts and prayers are with his family.

“ Carlos was one of the first people I met when I checked in to the Naval Academy Prep School (NAPS) in Newport, RI. He would always help, no matter what the problem was. Going to the Academy was no different. He was one of the most determined and caring people I know. His kindness and mentorship have shaped me into the person I am today.
