“ I can remember the way spunky would always make me feel welcome when he knew just how much I felt like I never fitted in. He would go out of his way to get me to laugh or take him somewhere so I could run out of gas. He was never bitter or negative and he loved his mom and siblings and everyone so much and I think it's why he always seemed like he was running around like a chicken with his head cut off. I know that the very recent passing away of his beloved mother was a very huge emotional rollercoaster and setback for him. But he was still in good spirits and didn't try to let on that he was dying inside without his mom. I'm so grateful for having known them both and I am going to be eternally sad for their sudden and tragic absence. I know that I can speak for all of us who loves them in saying that they are going to be forever missed and always loved. Truly the world has lost 2 more of the most heavenly precious and innocent people of our time.
