“ Friendddddd, you were my happy place.. my go to.. the only one I could count on to answer day and night.. to laugh, to cry, to talk shit, to talk about our day.. you always had a story to tell... I'll forever crave to hear one.. My life was mostly interesting because of you.. thank you for always making me feel safe in any/ every situation. When I dance I'll think of you, when I sing I'll think of you, and when I lay my head down at night I'll think of you, till we're riding again friend I'll think of you, Friends! How many of us have them💙

“ Lisa,

I'm sorry couldn't be there. My heart is with you, and nothing will ever be the same again. I always looked up to you. You are a badass warrior and always had style. As a kid, I remember telling you on the phone that someone twisted my arm, and you said you were going to beat their butt. I always felt safe when you were around. I'm pretty sure I'm not the only one—you were a protector. Your smile and laugh were contagious.

My best memories of you are from when you lived with us in Sun City. I loved it. You made me my first fried bologna sandwich, and you gave me my first Too Short tape. I know I still have it somewhere (Short Dog in the House). Because of your influence, my love for rap was born. I love and miss you, Sister “ Lisa....it makes me sad to know I won't hear your voice anymore and you cannot pester me to visit you in your hospital room while I'm working. We can't reminisce about when we first met when you were an EMT and I was a clerk at the hospital, 20 years ago! I will miss our conversations about our kids and families. You will be in my heart for a thousand years my dear friend.....💖 rest in peace now.

I love reading all these things I knew about my best friend, she told me about you Erika, and you're not the only one that felt safe around her, we started the prison together and I felt more safe around her than most other officers .. she was all but 5'2 and I'd rather be partners with her than most men 6ft2! A warrior for sure, my best friend. 🙏

“ I will miss you Lisa. You were one of my favorite clients. You tried so hard to be fair and always had your daughter's best interest at heart. I am going to miss your laugh and smile. I am so sad that you left this worlds too soon. Say hi to my girls up there in heaven and let them know I am okay down here. You left such a happy impression in my soul and I pray that your family is comforted by the almighty God. Rest in peace my friend. I will always remember you. Love always, Attorney Hook.
