“ Sisomphou Family-

I am so very saddened by your unexpected loss of Maui. I never had the pleasure of meeting her, I only heard of Maui. But I knew that she was a very important person and friend to my son, and for that unselfish gift I'm grateful that he knew her.

*With my deepest condolences,
Martha Shears*

This couldn't be anymore true. He was the love of her life. She would have gave him the world had she had the opportunity. Your words are special. I am/was one of Mauis best friends and I know your post would have meant the world to her.

“Mao...where do I start? You're one of the most passionate person I've ever known. Once you set your mind on something, you were unstoppable until that goal was achieved. N I will concur that your tenacious personality is what made you so strong. But as stron as u were, u had a soft spot and that spot was your kids. Your passion for life was in hope that one day you would reunite with them. For as long as I've known you, your kids were the reason you were breathing and fighting in this unpredictable realm we call life. I wished your kids could of heard the joy in your heart or the glimmer in your eyes when you spoke of them. Every memory you had of them was made known to all your family and friends. You never once gave up hope that one day you will Have them in your arms again. That is why every year on that special occasion, I'd wish you a happy Mother's day. N every year you would cry. The hurt and sorrow of not being with your kids would resurface. But deep in my heart, believed that given the chance, you would've given all your heart and soul to your kids just as any loving mother would do. That is why you deserved to hear as much as any mother did. So I say this with a heavy heart...I'm sorry that you didn't get to see them. My heart breaks for you. But rest assure...that one day they will know in their hearts that their mother truly loved them with every fiber of her being.
