“ thank you Maria for all the countless blessings you gave me, and your son through the years. I remember the night before your passing ,how you searched the room for me and you looked at me straight in the eye I saw a beautiful smile come out of you maybe it was your way of letting me no how much you loved and approved of me. I told you I was leaving and would be back the following day please be here early you said I responded I will I did not show up like i promised maybe you did not want to die alone or maybe you wanted to see me one last time. I want you to know that i will always remember you and you will be in my mind and in my heart forever.

“ You watched me grow up, you watched me get married, and you watched me have a son. I am forever blessed for the love you gave me. The same love I saw in your eyes when you met your newest great grandson. You made some of the best meals I've ever ate, even if it was as simple as beans and rice. Your homemade tortillas I watched you make from scratch will never be out done. We may have never held a true conversation but at the end of me trying to understand what you said, you would always laugh from your heart. I will miss watching you say “bahhhh” whenever the lady on your novela would get caught cheating. I will miss your meals, I will miss you arguing with pepo, I will miss you blessing and praying over us before we left, but most of all I will miss you. I know where you are now and I'm happy you're at peace and no longer suffering and by God's grace I will see you again. I love you grandma till we meet again ❤️
