“ My Aunt Mary was the best. It is only with age that I've realized how truly special she was. I realize more than ever how much her talks helped me even when I didn't want to hear her. She believed me accepted me, and made me feel important. She acknowledged what I went thru growing up and wasn't afraid to have an open conversation about it. She was the only adult in my childhood who wasn't afraid to admit mistakes were made. She was instrumental in my healing journey. I love you Aunt Mary & I will always treasure my memories of you. I hope to be as good of an Aunt to my nieces and nephews, as you were to yours. Rest in Peace.

“ My Aunt Mary was a beautiful person- inside and out. She always managed to find the time to visit and call me thru out the years. She was always trying to get the family together under circumstances other than death. We never seemed to find the time. She always wanted to know what I was doing and what my plans were for my future. She wanted to know what I needed to conquer my goals so she could help me. The only problem was - my only goal was to get my kids thru each day
