“ It was difficult to write this because it just seems so strange that you aren't here. I am sad that it all happened so soon and we couldn't say good-bye. I know that your pain is gone and your heart was healed. You can now have peace! I will miss you. I am sad that you won't see the kids have families of their own but glad you got to see them grown. I love you. ❤️ I posted a few of your memories, so that others can see where you started.
