“ To all who visit this site today...thank you.

It is hard to believe that one year ago my beautiful mother died. She was an extraordinary mother with an amazing gift of unconditionally loving her family and friends. What an unbelievable gift God gave us. I feel blessed to have had a mother so kind and gentle. She was always a positive influence in my life. My tiny little mother who gave me strength, courage, wisdom and confidence to do anything I chose to accomplish. Always encouraging and supportive. I feel a huge void in my heart and a loss that is unimaginable. I miss seeing her smile every day and wish I could hug her once more, feel her warm embrace and gentle way that always made me feel safe and loved. Mom loved life. Seeing new things and meeting new people were one of her favorite things. On one of our trips, we went to Canada and she came back talking like a Canadian. We laughed and giggled every time cause she was just that cute. I have been single most of my life and feel fortunate because I was able to spend a great deal of time with my mom. When I moved to Los Angeles we spoke on the phone every day and she came to visit me often. She even became a frequent traveler on AMTRAK. On one of her visits I took her to see the Pope when he was in Los Angeles. We stood in line for hours to get into the Colosseum, but she was a trooper as always. We went to restaurants, museums, concerts, movie premiers and of course shopping. It gave me great pleasure to spoil her which I did every chance I got. She absolutely loved just getting in the car and going wherever I was going. Mamacita was my very best friend and I will miss her the rest of my life. I love you so much Mom and I miss you every day. God bless you always. Your loving and grateful daughter, Lane.

Muchas gracias a Alejandra. Por sus amables palabras y por el amor de mi madre. Usted era un buen amigo de ella y ella siempre miraba hacia fuera para usted. Echaremos de menos su hermosa sonrisa y abrazos que le dio tanta libertad a los que amaba. Cuidar de sí mismo y su familia. Que Dios te cuide en los próximos días.

“ My grandma was and still is the strongest woman i know. For many she was known as "Grandma Pauline", her heart and love was so big, its hard to compare. She was a sharp woman, I can remember her being a chaperone to a field trip of mine and none of of my classmates would dare to get out of line, me and my grandma giggled a lot on that trip. When ever I would start getting distracted or start stragglng she would tell me... "mija get on the ball". She loved us unconditionally and was always there when i needed a shoulder or some advice. I used to think the cream of wheat she would make me as a kid was called "grandma wheat" for the longest time, because it was just that good. My grandma will be missed and cherished in my heart for as long as I live. She showed me pride in my Name and showed me that family is the most important thing in the world. Forever and ever grandma you will be missed.

“ Mary, Rick, Pat & Victor and to all of Pauline's grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and other family members and friends:

I met the Araujo family in 1968 while living on the infamous Fergar Street. Pauline was the epitome of a mom and mentor. She was dedicated to her children as well as their friends. I was one of those friends. There were days I never went home because of the love I felt at the Araujo home. Pauline worked very hard at keeping her home filled with food, family and friends. She always greeted me with open arms and her beautiful smile. Many, many times I went to the drive-in to watch Mexican movies in her cool station wagon. She took me to the walk-in Mexican Theatre with Pat and we just ran around and around having a great time. She allowed us to have fun and play like kids, but was always a step ahead of us in case we thought we were going to get over on her...Nope...that wasn't going to happen --- Pauline was like a hawk - no one got too close to her kids and her kids didn't go too far from her! I loved Pauline. She led by example. I will always remember her and be thankful for the good times we shared. God Bless her and the entire Araujo family.

*Ms. Pauline,
You have been nothing less then a true loving Friend & Mentor to me in my life, age between us had no boundaries, So full of Life, Love & Appreciation for all those you love and came into contact with, So many endearing beautiful thoughts & fun secrets that we shared between us ') and all the laughter & giggles we shared as well on every phone call that we had. I'm so blessed to have met you many years ago. My son Adam, will never forget you sewing his button on his shirt, when all he asked for was a needle to barrow ') you touched his heart as a young boy and now he's 30yrs old and has not forgotten you in your loving act of kindness, this is the type of impact you have on so many My Dear loving Ms. Pauline.*

I will continue to impart your love to this world as you have touched my heart, I will miss you for now ,but I also look forward to the day that we will be together again holding hands as we stroll thru Heaven, for now, we can hold HEARTS xoxoxo
