“ Dada, I miss you more than you know but I know you were tired and in pain. A day will never go by that we won't think of you. We sit in your room, cry a little and relax in your chairs. We know you are here as we sometimes get a strong scent of your smell. I know you are up in heaven with Stevie and Grandpa so you are not alone. Although we will miss you here we are strong. I will always be your little girl and will continue to make you proud each and every day.
