“ *My Pops!!!!
Such a soft spoken, humble, and loving Man. We were truly blessed to call you Our Father. You have taught us so much in all areas of our lives. Definitely directed us in the right direction in assuring that we grasped a spiritual relationship with Christ.
Job well done. Rest well. You are missed. We thank God that you are now pain free. Your loving daughter, Selina ❤️*

“ Farewell, but not goodbye... Pop I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the many lessons taught by you and learned by me...I can assure you; your legacy will live on through me passing along life lessons to my sons and them in turn passing those same lessons along to their kids. You have said many times that Love is spelled (T-I-M-E). Not (L-O-V-E)...You always told me we will spend the majority of our time around those things that we love the mos.! That is a lesson I will remember for the remainder of my days. I will honor you not only with the remembrance of this particular saying...but many others as well. You took time to share many lessons with me as I matured into a man...therefore, there is no doubt you loved me as I loved you. I look forward to the day I will see you again. For it is said, “ in our Father's House he has prepared many mansions for us.” Rest peacefully Pop...Love and miss you much!

Your son Kenny.

“ *Pop,
As I say my final farewell to your earthly body I want you to know your legacy lives on. I will forever remember your quotes regarding life, education, and general well-being. I continue to share them with both my sons and others as deemed necessary...I love and miss you and look forward to the day we will meet again in our Father's House where mansions have been prepared for us. Amen!
Your Son Kenny*
